Submitted by the Cass Technical High Sports Analytics Club, Detroit, Michigan

Dear Mr. Doleva:

On behalf of the Cass Technical High School Sports Analytics Club and all of our contributors listed below, please find attached the Performance Portfolio for Chauncey Billups, who helped Detroit return to the NBA elite and current nominee to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

The work included here has been compiled by the members of the inaugural Cass Technical High School Sports Analytic Club in Detroit, Michigan. Our students, guided by the leadership of all of the contributors below, designed and formulated this research project that offered students real world experience in developing their math, reading, research, and critical thinking skills.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Lisa Phillips, Principal
